EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

A Global Platform at the Intersection of Peace, Climate & Tourism

AMS Global Peace Summit and Everest Tourism Awards 2026 together form a high-level global platform that brings diplomacy, sustainability, tourism, and cultural leadership into one unified space—on the symbolic occasion of International Everest Day (May 29) in Kathmandu, Nepal.

This platform convenes 300+ curated delegates from 40–55 countries, including ambassadors, policymakers, development agencies, tourism authorities, investors, and global thought leaders—creating a rare environment where dialogue, recognition, and strategic collaboration converge.

Why This Platform Matters Now

The Himalaya is not just a region—it is a global climate barometer, economic driver, and symbol of resilience.

As the world navigates climate risk, fragile ecosystems, and shifting geopolitical priorities, there is a growing need for platforms that connect:

- Climate action with economic opportunity
- Tourism with sustainability
- Diplomacy with real, outcome-driven collaboration

This initiative positions Nepal—and its partners—at the center of that global conversation.

What Makes This Different

This is not a conventional event.

It is a strategic soft-power platform designed to deliver measurable value:

- Influence - Direct engagement with diplomats, policymakers, and global institutions
- Visibility - 10 million+ digital impressions, international media coverage, and global audience reach
- Association - Alignment with climate leadership, peace-building, and sustainable development

What Partners Gain

By joining as a partner, your organization is positioned as a visible contributor to a global movement, not just a sponsor.

You gain:

- Access to high-level international networks and decision makers
- Strategic positioning within global sustainability and policy dialogue
- Premium visibility across digital, media, and on-ground platforms
- Opportunity to align your brand with purpose, leadership, and long-term impact

Tangible Outcomes

This platform is designed to move beyond discussion and deliver concrete outputs:

- Kathmandu Declaration on Peace & Sustainable Tourism
- Cross-border collaboration frameworks and partnership opportunities
- A globally distributed Post-Summit Impact Report
- Continued visibility through international media and digital amplification

Selected partners will have the opportunity to be recognized as contributing signatories or presenters of the Kathmandu Declaration, creating long-term institutional and reputational value.

A Strategic Opportunity

At a time when organizations are seeking meaningful global positioning, this platform offers a rare convergence of influence, visibility, and purpose-anchored in one of the world's most powerful natural and cultural symbols: The Himalaya.

Invitation

We invite your organization to join us as a Strategic Partner or Development Partner in shaping a global narrative where peace, sustainability, and tourism converge.

Limited partnership opportunities available.

We are currently scheduling private briefings with selected organizations throughout May.

To arrange a 15-minute presentation or partnership discussion, please contact us directly.
